

Will We SURVIVE THE CLIMATE CRISIS AND NUCLEAR WEAPONS?

WESTERN WASHINGTON Fellowship of RECONCILIATION 2017 FALL RETREAT

SAT. Nov. 4, 2017, 9 AM TO 5 PM

MAIN LODGE, GWINWOOD CONFERENCE CENTER IN LACEY WA

We have created a way of life over the past few hundred years that spews carbon dioxide, methane and other chemicals into the atmosphere and the waters of the planet.

We have created nuclear weapons and nuclear power with unsolved issues beginning with the extraction of uranium from the earth leaving radioactive waste, to the development, production, and increasingly likely use of nuclear weapons.

In considering the truth about the dire inter-relationship between these human created problems, we must not fall into the trap of despair.

However, we must recognize the urgency and the need to act with bold and immediate remedies.

Neither issue will be solved easily but the first step is to gather together to be informed, to discuss possible options and to make plans to create a better future for our children and our children's children.

You already know the basic information about the climate crisis and nuclear weapons, so instead of repeating that, WWFOR's 2017 Fall Retreat will dig deeper.

Our morning panel will share insights and affirm the urgency of taking strong, strategically smart actions now. Our afternoon workshops will provide opportunities to connect and explore various ways to meaningfully work on solutions.
